Re: Andrew Zachar and NoWet

To whom it may concern,

My name is Paula-Jeni Battilana, I am the CitySmart Events Program Coordinator with Brisbane City Council.

CitySmart is an ambitious program of environmental initiatives aimed at making Brisbane Australia's most sustainable city. CitySmart is about changing behaviours while maintaining lifestyles. More importantly, CitySmart is about real people taking practical and affordable actions to achieve real outcomes. Through CitySmart, Council provides advice, information and tools to help you save time, money, resources and the environment.

CitySmart has several ways of reaching the public, our two main resources are displays that travel around to communities and Neighbourhood Fairs. As well as CitySmart being an educational tool, we also sell certain products that are in line with our initiatives of saving water and energy.

NoWet is a product that Council supports by selling on our displays and having demonstrations conducted at our Neighbourhood Fairs.

NoWet has passed Brisbane City Council vigorous standards, by not only proving to save water, but by using safe ingredients and by passing the test of time by being a truly successful product. NoWet uses no water, while still cleaning and helping to maintain the look of your car.

NoWet also helps CitySmart in obtaining their goals of making Brisbane a more sustainable city. CitySmart is happy to have NoWet as part of their initiatives.

If you have any further questions, involving CitySmart and NoWet's connection, or to discuss any of CitySmart's initiatives, please feel free to contact me.

Kind regards

Paula-Jeni Battilana
